

Sierra Roman, CID

associate + interior design

Sierra thrives in the design field where every day is different, full of constant change and evolution. Client-focused, she enjoys solving the space plan puzzle to create a space that falls in line with expectations, but brings added value to the vision. Collaboration and communication are key to her project success, as well as her commitment to client needs from beginning to end. The design details she brings to life through custom millwork and adaptive style create one-of-a-kind show stoppers.
